Introduction

This document provides information about the technologies used by this Application to achieve the purposes described below. These technologies allow the Data Controller to collect and store information (e.g., using Cookies) or to use resources (e.g., running a script) on the User's device when interacting with this Application.

These technologies are collectively referred to as "Tracking Tools," unless a distinction is made. While cookies may be used in both web and mobile browsers, their usage in mobile apps may differ. Therefore, the term "Cookies" is used in this document only to refer to a specific type of Tracking Tool.

Some uses of Tracking Tools require the User's consent. This consent can be freely withdrawn at any time by following the instructions in this document.

This Application uses Tracking Tools managed directly by the Controller ("first-party" Tools) and Tools enabling services provided by third parties ("third-party" Tools). Unless otherwise stated, these third parties may access their respective Tracking Tools.

The duration and expiration of Cookies and similar Tools may vary depending on settings defined by the Controller or each third-party provider. Some expire when the User session ends. More detailed information is available via the privacy policies of the respective third-party providers or by contacting the Controller.
